Dear Stan:

I am most pleased to hear that you will head the Central Intelligence Agency. The Agency will have the competent and progressive leadership it needs. I wish you the best in this important endeavor.

I have been with Tetra Tech for seven years since my CNA days and am engaged in some exciting work particularly in the study of Soviet naval ballistic missile guidance. Soviet developments in this field differ from ours but are no less impressive, and we believe their accomplishments are consistently underestimated. If you are interested in this activity, we would be happy to discuss it in detail.

Sincerely,

Frank E. Bothwell
